

Summer 2021 Online Course

JUNE 28-AUGUST 5

Synchronous classes Monday-
Friday, 9:30-10:45 AM EST

Are you interested in jobs in finance? You've heard that finance recruiting starts early and can be grueling: want to learn the skills and tools to make you shine in interviews? This summer take Practical Financial Markets and prepare for success in the rigorous investment bank recruiting process that now starts in sophomore year.

Topics include:

- Corporate valuation techniques, including: DCF, comps, precedents, and LBO models
- Financial market asset classes, such as: bonds, equities, currencies & commodities
- Recruiting preparation: résumé creation and guidance for technical and behavioral interview questions

Includes competitions hosted by Goldman Sachs and Wells Fargo

Offered for course credit through the Duke University Department of Economics

Designed for students who have completed their first year of college

No prior coursework in finance or economics required

Learn more:
[econ.duke.edu/
256-summer-2021](http://econ.duke.edu/256-summer-2021)