

Bridge to the Doctorate Program at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University has been awarded a Louis Stokes Bridge to the Doctorate (BD) grant for 2022-2024. We are currently seeking B.D. applications from eligible underrepresented minority students planning on applying to STEM Ph.D. programs at N.C. A&T for the Spring 2023 and Fall 2023 semesters.

The LSAMP Bridge to the Doctorate Program at N.C. A&T will support 12 Ph.D. students in their first two years of study. Each participant will receive a support package that covers tuition and includes a stipend of $32,000 and up to $12,000 towards educational expenses, per year for two years. Participants will also receive funding for subsequent years in the Ph.D. program.

Qualifications:

- Must be a U.S. Citizen or Permanent Resident
- Must have participated in a Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (LSAMP) program as an undergraduate. Program participation/certification will be confirmed with the B.S. degreegranting institution.

 Must be admitted into a STEM Ph.D. program at N.C. A&T to begin in Spring 2023 or Fall 2023.

Eligible STEM Ph.D. Programs at N.C. A&T:
